6. Service Provider obligations

6.1. Broadband may not be available in the subscriber's area, their specific location or may not be compatible with their specific landline connection. In order to verify that Qtel can provide this service, Qtel will need to do the following:

6.1.1. Verify that the subscriber's landline is in an area where they can receive broadband services;

6.1.2. Verify that the technical characteristics of the subscriber's landline can support broadband services which may require performing a landline test.

6.2. Qtel is responsible for servicing and providing technical maintenance of the service. Qtel will not provide any maintenance of the subscriber's equipment, including the modem or any additional equipment necessary to connect the service. Qtel is not responsible for any delays caused in installation due to the subscriber's absence at the agreed installation date or time.

6.3. Qtel may, if necessary to protect the network system, suspend, terminate or downgrade a particular broadband service.

- 6.4. If no suitable terrestrial connectivity is available, Qtel will undertake feasibility for alternative connectivity solutions (e.g. Wi-MAX) and advise the customer of options. Not all speeds may be available over alternative connectivity.

7. Customer obligations

- 7.1. Minimum service period: The minimum service period for the broadband service is three (3) months commencing from the date of activation of service.
- 7.2. The subscriber must subscribe to receive Qtel consumer landline service in order to be able to subscribe for fixed broadband service.
- 7.3. Customers may terminate the service before the end of the relevant minimum commitment period but the customer will be liable for any charges waived at inception of the service if cancelling within the minimum commitment period.
- 7.4. Customers are responsible for backing-up their entire systems before broadband installation takes place and ensuring that the software installed in their computer equipment (and other devices) is compatible with the service and related software.
- 7.5. Equipment: In addition to the CPE equipment provided by Qtel, the customer may also acquire the equipment that they intend to use to receive the service from a third-party, provided that all equipment used to connect to Qtel's networks and facilities is approved by ictQATAR and is compliant with current requirements for technical standards and specifications. Qtel's General Terms and Conditions for Consumer Services, Article 11 (Connecting Subscriber Equipment) refers.
- 7.6. The customer shall comply with any reasonable request by Qtel concerning the configuration of their devices and/or the use of the service.
- 7.7. Qtel may require the customer to submit information reasonably related to the service or their connected data devices.
- 7.8. The subscriber undertakes to use the service personally and for their private interest, and shall not transfer the service or assign it to a third party without obtaining Qtel's prior written consent.
